

Do you want to:

hear transformative stories by Role Models?

meet other Role Models?

share what you do with your friends, family,
or colleagues?

join a community of people who are inspiring children and families to learn?

learn how 10BH Role Models are transforming the early education space?

10 Talk

transformative stories by Role Models

Join our first 10 Talk on May 17th at 7pm to listen to Role Model and lifelong East Palo Alto resident, Angelica Ochoa-Cervantes, share her experience Role Modeling for nearly 2 years and the difference it has made in her and her Learner's life. Nothing short of inspiration should be expected.

Q&A with Angelica will follow her talk.

A reception with food and drinks will follow Q&A.

Learning activity tables featuring 10BH activities and books will accompany food and drinks.

Bring guests!

RSVP HERE

Location arranged courtesy of 10BH Board Member, Kevin Ahlstrom:

10 Talk
May 17th, 2016, 715 PM
The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints
3865 Middlefield Rd., Palo Alto, CA 94303

A bit about Angelica

In my SJSU Child Development service-learning class, 20 hours of community service that involved working with toddlers or preschoolers was required. Nonprofit partners presented to the class about their volunteer opportunities. Paul was the last one to present. I was not too sure if I wanted to join the organization because it was very different from the rest.

Now, almost 2 years after being a part of the 10BH family, there is no greater feeling knowing that I am changing a child's life through education. 10BH is an organization that is life-changing, not only for the Learner but also for the Role Model. I hope you can come listen to my story!